With the score tied in the ending of the eleventh inning and with two men out, Bauer, the midge short stop for the Richmond nine drove a handsome single and won the game from the Champion Brownies yesterday afternoon. Score 4 to 0.

Not before this season has the finish of a game been so exciting. Hats were thrown into the air and the crowd that had watched with interest the battle between the two southpaws, Crawford and Hulcher, was instantly turned into one roaring, yelling throng. The Brownies went to bat in the eleventh and it was one, two, three with them. Cannon, for the Richmond nine drew a sign from the rookers when he put an easy one down to second, and was out at first. Sent drew a base and stole second by good running. Robertson oozed and Bauer came to bat. Two balls were called on him and two fouls were made, each counting a strike. Just when the crowd was getting ready to watch another inning, the little player smacked the sphere squarely on the nose. It sailed out in left garden out of reach of any player and sent made it home by covering ground very rapidly. Nightly never got a chance to come to bat, for the game ended and Bauer was the hero of the day.

The second game between the Manchester Colts and the team from Barton Heights was one-sided, going to the latter team by the score of 12 to 0. Manchester at no stage of the game had a chance to score. Brooks allowed only two hits and the team behind him played without an error.

The First Game.
Bob Knightly, captain, and Mr. N. B. Hamilton, the new manager of the aggregation, sent their men to the field in the very best of condition. There were few changes in the line up. At second a new man, Jones, played and he proved to be a valuable addition to the nine. He accepted eleven chances without an error and got a clean single in the third inning. McConough, who was in the batting line and did the twirling for three innings when he was succeeded by Hulcher. Richmond got one run in the second, two in the third and no more until the eleventh. The Brownies sent Bowers across the plate in the third and Albert Anthony in the sixth. Some dumb playing in the eighth allowed them to score again. The official score follows:

Manchester Shut Out.

Hogan was wild in the first two innings and the team behind him offered very little support. Eleven men faced the pitcher in the first inning. Rose drew a base and so did Boone. Hoskins was out from Hogan to first and Mills got to first by putting one sizzling hot across to first. Hogan hit his home run in the second and had to retire from the game. Glenn took his place for one inning and then Elliott succeeded Hogan in the box, the latter going to short. Bahe drove a single and so did Booker. Rose and Boone scored. Trilton found one to his liking and pitched it for a single, bringing in another run. Phillips ripped a double by another run. Phillips had a home run and had to retire from the game. Baker and Brooks beat a small one out. Rose came to bat for the second time and got a single. Boone went out to left field and ended the misery after six runs had come in. After two men were out, two bases on balls and two singles aided by an error brought in four runs. Elliott allowed only two hits and had to have gone in the box at first the score would have been different.

Manchester was disorganized. Andrew Anthony, who has been captain, was with the Brownies and the line up shows several new men. The team has very little team work. The official score follows:
